They are today's "hot topics." Is Europe playing its part? And is it creating "Hot Spots" of innovation to lead the way forward? And how? Europe must keep pace to attract the best talent and investment, create jobs and improve public health? For its 20th anniversary, BioEquity Europe begins with "Biotech in Europe: Scaling Innovation," an exclusive report from Insights Partner McKinsey & Co. Based on a survey of industry KOLs, this report will provide food for discussion on such key questions as: • Are Europe's biotech hotspots playing their part in global biotech innovation? • The great European biotech funding evolution: Where next? • How can CEOs and investors best play their cards in this context? Session Chair: • David Flores, President & CEO, BioCentury Featuring: • Jorge Santos da Silva, Ph.D., Partner, McKinsey & Co.
